The Housing Authority of the City of Prichard proudly celebrates a milestone moment as Ms. Kimberly Levingston marks her first year as Chief Executive Officer (CEO). In just twelve months, Ms. Levingston has set a new standard of leadership—one defined by integrity, innovation, and an unwavering commitment to the people of Prichard.

Her impact is unmistakable. Across every department, from administration to resident services, the Levingston Effect can be felt. Under her guidance, the agency has strengthened its mission, expanded its vision, and deepened its connection to the community it serves.

As we celebrate this first year of excellence, we also look forward with excitement. The Levingston Effect is not just a reflection of what has been accomplished—it is a promise of what is yet to come.

What a wonderful way for the Housing Authority of the City of Prichard (HACP) to close out the year—by helping another family become an official homeowner.

We celebrate the joy and stability that homeownership brings, marking new beginnings, opportunities for wealth building, and a true sense of belonging. It's a meaningful and rewarding way to end the year, offering families security, pride, and a place where memories can grow for generations.
